MASTER PLAN UNVEILED

For Community Park. A revised five-phase, $2.9 million master plan for the development of Community Park — particularly the north side of Route 206 — has been presented to the Joint Recreation Board. (See map page 2.)

Because the Board already owns the land — the most expensive item of any such development — outgoing board chairman Dean W. Chase commented, "We have a unique opportunity. The big bargain here is land. The question is, to what extent is the development of this a community responsibility?"

The land on the north side, about 75 acres, was obtained through matching Green Acre and state funds. The entire Community Park area on both sides of 206 embraces 110 acres.

"If the public accepts this as it did the swimming pool complex, I'm sure it will be a tremendous success," comments R. Donald Barr, executive director of the Joint Recreation Board. "If this were completed, we would have the finest recreational park on the east coast, without question."

First Step in February. As a first step, Mr. Barr intends to present the updated master plan — prepared by Planning Associates of Long Island, which also prepared the original master plan for Community Park in 1966 — to a combined gathering sometime in February of the new Joint Planning Board, the Environmental Site Review Board, Borough Council and Township Committee.

"This way," he said, "every one will be knowledgeable about the plan and what we are trying to do. We hope we can arrive at some kind of a consensus on how to approach it."

The two major additions planned for the north side are an 18-hole, par 3 golf course, with a subsequent phase providing a driving range and a miniature golf course, and a $795,000 pavilion-type ice skating rink. The anticipated gross income potential of the golf course and driving range projected by the study firm, is $174,750; for the ice rink, $250,000. However, operating expenses for the rink in particular are conceded to be so high that net income will be virtually negligible.

Phase One: $320,000. While there is no fixed order for the five phases, both the board and Richard G. Ward, who presented the plan, feel Phase One should be undertaken first.

EARLY DEADLINE SET

Because of the holiday schedule for New Year's Day, TOWN TOPICS deadline for display advertising will be Friday at 5 p.m. Classified ads must be cancelled by that time, but new classified advertising will be accepted until Monday at 5 p.m. News stories and pictures should be submitted as early as possible.

Included are the landscaping of the north side, which Mr. Barr described as an "unsightly mess", the creation of a pond and boat rental area, an amphitheatre, picnic grounds, multiple use playfield, nature area, walking paths and parking for the picnic area.

Estimated at between 600 and 800 feet long and 200 feet wide, the pond would serve as a buffer between the golf course and picnic area. Silt from the pond dredging would be used to provide topsoil for the playfield and picnic area. Cost of Phase One: $320,000.

Since the beautification and landscaping of the north side, the nature area, the pond all part of phase one will benefit all residents of Prince ton, they will be asked to pay the cost.

But for the facilities such as the golf course and ice rink, which will be more limited in use, Mr. Barr reported there is a strong feeling on the part of board members to have users' fees pay not only the administrative and maintenance costs but for construction as well.

"The tax bite is going up all the time," he said, "and the public should not be made to pay for these specialized sports areas."

South Side, Too. The master plan also calls for additions to the south side of Community Park. Among these are the erection of a lighted Little League baseball stadium, handball courts, an irrigation system and increased parking.

Phase two calls for construction of a handball court complex, including one wall, three wall and four wall courts; additions to the swimming pool complex, including small court games such as bocce and volley ball, ping pong, a play apparatus area and a teen area. Also, an increase in existing pool parking to 230 spaces — the most costly item ($100,000) — a field irrigation system, landscaping and a pedestrian overpass.

"Once you establish a high-use facility such as an ice rink on the north side of 206, a pedestrian overpass ($75,000) becomes essential," Mr. Barr said. The overpass would connect the pool parking lot with one located behind the proposed rink and golf course clubhouse lockers containing 245 spaces — or almost room for 500 cars. Total cost of Phase 2: $404,000.

Phase Three, as outlined, would include the par 3 course and two-fifths of the parking on the north side for a cost of $523,000 to $738,000, depending on construction costs. (One reason why Mr. Ward pointed out that, while there is no time limit for completion, — five years, 10 years — the faster it is completed, the less the construction costs.) Construction rates are increasing five to 10 percent a year, according to national figures.

Phase Four includes the baseball stadium and stadium parking, the driving range and miniature golf course, the remaining three fifths of parking on the north side and landscaping for a cost of $621,600. Most expensive is the Fifth Phase, the ice rink, which bears that $795,000 price tag.

The report cautioned that covered ice rinks have become marginal profit-making ventures because of spiraling construction, operational and maintenance costs.

The northern boundary of the park would be the proposed extension of Terhune Road. If future traffic plans materialize, Valley Road, which now intersects with 206 opposite Township Hall, would be closed and Terhune would become the main intersection.

In its conclusion, the report states that the new master plan presents an ambitious program for Borough and Township but not "an over-ambitious one," in the consultants' opinion. It adds that although Princeton was a pioneer in the development of its swimming pool complex — "probably one of the most successful swimming pool complexes in the New York metropolitan area many communities have captured this foresight and have advanced more intensive park and recreational facilities."

Whether Princeton residents want to recapture that foresight is something Mr. Barr and the Recreation Commission hope to find out on February.

Christmas Fund at $3,327

Two weeks after the 23d annual TOWN TOPICS Christmas Appeal had been published, contributors from all parts of the Princeton area had sent gifts totalling $3,327.14.

All cases reported in the Appeal have been substantiated by the Family Service Agency. All costs of administering the Fund are met by TOWN TOPICS, so that every penny contributed goes to the assistance of those in need.

Checks should be made payable to the TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund, and mailed to P.O. Box 661, Princeton.

New Chairman Named

Frances Hunter of the Boro was named chairman of the board to succeed Mr. Chase, who was required to step down when he was elected to Township Committee in November. William R. Bondhros of the Township was named vice chairman.

Mr. Barr, who has yet to find a replacement for former assistant director Anthony Puglisi, remains as executive director.

CONTESTS EVERYWHERE

For School Board. With a looming deadline — this Friday, December 26, at 4 p.m., Stony Brook Administration Building — prospective candidates for the Princeton Regional School Board have been filing petitions at such a rate that there is now a contest for each of the three seats.

Latest to file is Daniel J. Mager, 79 Hemlock Circle, who will compete against Dr. Robert Bierman for the Township's one three-year term.

In the Borough, three candidates are now running for the two three-year terms that are available. Dr. Henry J. Powsner, 306 Nassau Street, has filed to run against Mrs. Stuart Hunter, 100 Bayard Lane, and Mrs. Robert Geddes, 229 Mercer.

Four candidates are running for the two-year term in the Township. Dr. Philip A. Cruickshank, 211 Dodds Lane; Dr. Warren Dodson, 306 Shady Brook; Mrs. Loren Johnston, 101 Overbrook and Burnett H. Sams, 513 Prospect, will contend for that seat.

Mr. Mager is an electrical engineer with General Electric. He was active in forming the Citizens Advisory Council to the Princeton Community Housing Group and is treasurer of Cub Pack 88. His wife is a former president of the Riverside PTO.

The Magers have lived in Princeton for seven and one-half years, and have three children in the Princeton schools.

Dr. Cruickshank, who has lived here six and one-half years, is research manager for FMC. He holds a doctorate in organic chemistry from M.I.T. Dr. Cruickshank has been active in Scouting and is chairman of the Troop 43 Committee, First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Cruickshank's wife is president of the Middle School P.T.O. and works with the Cub Scouts. The Cruickshanks have three children, two of whom are in the Princeton schools. The third attends Admiral Farragut Academy.

Dr. Powsner is in the radiology department at Princeton Hospital. He is a graduate of Princeton University and holds the M.D. degree from the University of Pennsylvania Medical School. He is a member of the Unitarian Church.

Dr. Powsner has lived in Princeton for three and one-half years. During three years' residence in Florida, he was president of a P.T.A. He has three children in the Princeton Schools.

Dr. Rodson, a Princeton dentist for the past 11 years, is a deacon in the First Presbyterian Church. He is associated with the YMCA "Indian Guides." His wife is a vice-president of the Littlebrook P.T.O. The three Dodson children are in the Princeton schools.

In statements this week, candidates said:

Mr. Mager: "A school board which creates a budget that is turned down by the public has not acted in a responsible manner. In a community so keenly aware of the importance of education, a budget carefully executed and reflecting the educational needs of the community, should be easily explainable to that community. . . . Innovation should be enthusiastically encouraged when initiated within a controlled environment. Changes are needed and should be brought about by planned educational experiments . . ."

The candidate believes in merit pay for teachers.

Dr. Cruickshank: "There has been a woeful lack of long-range planning. Conditions in the high school and Middle School are greatly in need of improvement from the point of view of quality education and efficient use of personnel and facilities . . . Something must be done to stop drug use and drug abuse by Princeton youth . . . Increased efficiency and decreased waste (are essential) in an effort to reduce the rapidly spiraling cost of education . . . realistic counselling of students must be provided with vocational as well as college preparatory courses available at the high school. The board must seek to keep the community well-informed, and especially to better justify its actions on controversial issues."

Dr. Pawsner: "I am not running because of a specific issue . . . I would oppose those who would let any single issue loom so large that the many fine features of Princeton's school system be made to suffer . . . the policies of the schools must reflect the will of the community. The board must keep the community well-informed . . . a foremost duty of the school board is to seek to interpret to the school staff the attitudes, wishes and needs of the community and in turn, interpret to the people, the needs, problems and progress of the schools."

Dr. Dodson: "There must be communication between board and community and a board more open to community opinion At public meetings, comment from the audience seems to be stifled . . . the "Wednesday Program" needs evaluation by board, teachers and administration so we can see what are the good parts and the bad . . . . We need a policy on teachers and the boundaries of discipline. We should put more trust in teachers and their ability to discipline and then back them up . . . . traditional forms of education have proved reasonably satisfactory. This doesn't mean a philosophy of 'no change'. Experimentation is fine, but it must have a sound basis, good community rapport and parents who are in agreement . . . . better rapport and better communications all around, would ease tensions that arise from misunderstanding and honest disagreements."

A Warning Against Cherry Slices

Two Princeton young people have been hospitalized with convulsions and sickness from "cherry slices," a saccharine-size pill that contains the hallucigen STP and methadrine ("speed"), cut with strychnine, according to William Kight, assistant to the rector of Trinity Church.

One was taken to the hospital from the Catacombs, the youth hang-out at Trinity, and the other was found on the street by Jerry Sanders, YMCA youth worker.

The pink-dotted pills, also called "pink slices" and "cherry sparkle," were traced to a pusher in Princeton, Mr. Kight said. The pusher claimed that he was one of a group that purchased 20,000 of the pills in New York City and brought them to Princeton.

"They've been on sale for the past two weeks," Mr. Kight said. "We don't know how much is still around. It's hitting the younger kids, 15 and 16 year-olds."

NO ROOM AT THE INN?

No Time, Anyway. The Borough Zoning Board had no time for the weary traveler last Thursday night and turned away lawyers for Princeton University who had come all the way from the Township Zoning Board to lay before the Borough the University's case for converting the Inn to a girls' dormitory.

The Borough zoning agenda was just too full. The University was asked to return January 8.

The problem, as even Santa Claus must know by now, is that the municipal dividing line goes down the center of the Inn. This means appearances before two different zoning boards and the mastering of two different zoning ordinances.

Earlier on Thursday evening, the University did explain its case to the Township board. It must go back there, too, probably on January 18, with a detailed, room by room description of just what the University plans to do about 29 sub standard rooms.

These sub standard rooms may mean that the University won't be able to use the Inn for all 330 of the girls it now plans to house there (130 of these girls would be living in the Township half.)

Of the 29 rooms, 22 violate the window area provisions of the zoning law and seven violate light and air measurements. In fact, several of the 22 may have less than half the required amount of light.

John D. Hlafter, Director of Physical Planning for the University, told the board he wouldn't want to install big "picture windows" in the small rooms to spoil the Colonial facade of the Inn.

The Zoning Board voted 3-2 on this question, Albert L. Kress and William Geddes voting "no" on requiring the University to come back with the room by room analysis.

On the basic question "is the Inn for transient, residential use?" the Zoning Board unanimously voted "yes," as the University hoped. A "no" vote would have meant the need for a special permit.

However, the "transient" designation means the University needs a variance from the 60% floor area ratio required by zoning law. The Inn has a 68.5% ratio in the Township. (The term means that the building occupies 68.5% of the lot.) The variance was granted.

Mr. Hlafter said the University plans to remove part

Down the chimney,
Ho! Ho! Ho!
With a bag that's
Full of snow!

There were all sorts of reports this week that Christmas would be white. It didn't miss by much Monday, when better than an inch of rain fell, and when a mere five degrees less on the thermometer would have meant a foot of snow.

Christmas Eve may bring snow, the forecast says. Possibly up to three inches. It adds. Temperatures for the next few days will run slightly below normal.

White or wet, have a good one!

of the "sea of asphalt" and sow a lawn. The University would like to incorporate the Inn's parking spaces into its peripheral parking plan, assigning employees from various parts of the campus to Inn slots.

Some girls would be allowed to park there — probably 33. Others would use the regular student parking lot near Baker Rink.

Mr. Hlafter told the Township board that the University hopes to have new dormitories by 1973-74, but doesn't yet know where they will be built.

Ricardo Mestres, financial vice-president and treasurer of Princeton, said it was a lot cheaper to take over the Inn than to build from scratch. Besides, he added, the Inn wasn't all that profitable as a University investment.

DRIVER IS KILLED

In Head-On Collision. A Haddonfield motorist was killed Saturday night after his small foreign car was involved in a head-on collision on the Princeton-Hightstown Road in West Windsor Township.

Frank M. Knight 3d, 22, was pronounced dead at Princeton Hospital at 11:35 p.m., an hour after the mishap, by Dr. Thomas Corriveau. Police said that his car was so crushed that two wreckers were needed to pry the doors open.

Traveling in the opposite direction toward Princeton when the cars collided was Bruce LeValley, 28, of Pine Tree Cottages, U.S. 1, Lawrence Township. He was admitted to the Princeton Hospital for treatment of a broken right leg, multiple contusions and facial injuries. Both drivers were alone in their cars, police said.

Ptl. Frank Cox investigated the mishap. Charges are pending completion of his investigation.

In the Borough, Gerald Grover, 23, of Rocky Hill, was treated at Princeton Hospital for contusions of the chest and back strain after his car was struck Sunday evening on Route 206 at Valley Road.

Sgt. Lester Anderson ticketed Cynthia A. Shoemaker, 17, 78 Fairway Drive for a stop sign infraction. Miss Shoemaker told Sgt. Anderson she had seen the Grover car approaching on the left but thought she could make it through the intersection in time.

Costly Sneeze. An itchy nose led to more severe problems Thursday morning for Arthur Mendel, 64, 232 Bayard Lane.

Mr. Mendel told police that he was driving on William Street when he had to sneeze. His ah-choo caused him to pull the wheel to the right and strike a tree.

Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt reported that Mr. Mendel refused medical treatment at the scene for a bleeding nose. There were no charges.

TRENTON YOUTHS FINED

For Larceny. Three Trenton youths were fined in Borough criminal court last week by Judge Theodore T. Tams, Jr. for possession of stolen property.

"FIREBUGS" NEXT

At McCarter. "The Firebugs" — subtitled "A Learning-Play Without a Lesson," is billed by McCarter as "most definitely a lesson for our time."

Max Frisch's symbolic work will enter McCarter's repertory on Friday, January 2.

In "The Firebugs," a cautious German businessman named Biedermann (that's "Everyman" in German), finds uninvited arsonists in his home.

He and his wife, concerned only with saving themselves and their property, are eventually destroyed by their complete complacency.

A chorus of Fireman — a parody of the Green chorus — cautions the Biedermanns throughout, but warnings are disregarded.

The play can be regarded as a hilarious, almost slapstick farce, or as a satirical attack against complacency. In either case, it reveals the actions and attitudes of people confronted with a powerful and ruthless enemy.

Frisch, who is Swiss, is regarded as one of Europe's most important writers. His work has only recently become known in the United States. "Te Firebugs," translated by Mordecai Gorelik, was presented off-Broadway in 1963.

"YOUR OWN THING"

(And Mine.) Slide and movie projections turn "Your Own Thing" into a "Twelfth Night" Shakespeare never dreamed of.

The rock musical will come back to McCarter for a single performance on Monday, January 12 at 8:30. Tickets now on sale.

Like "Twelfth Night," "Your Own Thing" hinges on the separation of twins and the confusion that arises when they turn up in a strange city unknown to one another.

"Your Own Thing" is about to enter its third year in New York.

FOR THE CHILDREN

A Play, in New Brunswick, "Blecch!" written for children by an adult named Ken Baltin, will be presented as a New Year's present to the young on Saturday, January 10, and Saturday, January 24, by Brecht West, the New Brunswick theatre at 61 Albany Street.

Performances will be given at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. each Saturday. Reservations may be made at 201-828 2750.

A MUTUAL AID SOCIETY

For McCarter, Choir College. Three students from Westminster Choir College are currently appearing in McCarter Theatre's Professional Repertory production of Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing." Steve Anderson, Tracy Berry and John Walker are part of this McCarter-Westminster Exchange Program.

In this exchange, Westminster students are given the opportunity of appearing in McCarter productions, while a similar number of actors from the Professional Repertory Company take voice lessons in the Choir College voice department. The program is designed to provide helpful vocal training for the McCarter actors while students of music gain experience in stage movement and backstage technique under actual production conditions.

Coordinating the program are Kay Walker of Westminster Choir College and Peter Mumford of McCarter.

This production of "Much Ado About Nothing" will play a number of performances in the regular McCarter Series and will also be seen by several thousand students from high schools all over New Jersey and nearby Pennsylvania. Last year more than 50,000 high school students attended McCarter Repertory productions.

JAY, ON SKIS

An Evening. In-depth footage (they're got a lot of snow at McCarter) of ski-bobbing will be part of the film "An Evening With John Jay," due at McCarter next Monday at 8 p.m.

All seats for the film are reserved and tickets are now on sale at the McCarter box office.

Besides skibobbing and the footage will include the Brenter Skibob, Europe's amazing ski bicycle that goes over 100 (one hundred!) miles an hour the film will show the Swiss National Skibob Team competing in international champion ships.

Then there's the Inferno Race down the side of Tuckerman's Ravine, Mt. Washington. Slow-motion ski acrobatics in deep powder at Arc Sweden, former Austrian Olympic star Helmut Lantschnear outskiing avalanches in waist-deep snow and Ruedi Wyrsch performing tricks on plastic snow at Stratton in June, and on real snow at Squaw Valley.

RECITAL SCHEDULED

At Choir College Playhouse. Westminster Choir College will present mezzo soprano Diane Curry in a public recital at 8 p.m. Tuesday, January 6, in the Playhouse on the College campus. David Agler will be at the piano.

Miss Curry is an assistant professor of voice at the Choir College, from which she has both the Bachelor and Master of Music degrees. She has received critical acclaim for her many concert and operatic performances, having sung with a number of orchestras and opera companies, including the Trenton Symphony, the New York Chamber Orchestra, and the Philadelphia Lyric Opera.

In addition, she has appeared as a soloist with the Oratorio Society of New Jersey, the Philadelphia Singing City, and the Contemporary Music Festival of the University of Delaware, where she taught voice for several years.

Her program will include numbers by Beethoven and Edvard Grieg; also, "Lamento di Arianna" by Monteverdi; Respighi and "Siete canciones Populares Espanolas" by Manuel de Falla.

TAKE THE MONEY AND RUN: Comedian Woody Allen robs a bank in an off-beat way in the farce now at the Playhouse Theatre.

PRINCE

John and Mary (now playing) is a love story about a young furniture designer who picks up a girl at Maxwell's Plum in Manhattan's East Sixties and takes her home to bed.

Both have had previous love affairs, and although attracted to each other, they spar cautiously all the following day. Finally, they decide—24 hours later — to take the plunge and try to establish a meaningful relationship.

What richness and depth the movie has is mostly in the acting of the title roles by Dustin Hoffman and Mia Farrow — two immensely attractive personalities.

GARDEN and ERIC

On Her Majesty's Secret Service (held over) is at least as exotic, sexy and pseudo-violent an arry of the six preceding James Bond films. Australian George Lazenby replaces Sean Connery in the title role.

The assignment given to 007 this time is to invade the Alpine headquarters of a scientist (Telly Savalas). Savalas has plenty of gorgeous girls on hand to dazzle the secret agent, girls who will become lethal germ carriers to subdue the nations of the world.

There are assorted fights, shoot-outs, attacks and counter-attacks as 007 moves in. A word should be said for Diana Rigg, the English actress, who is an intelligent, charming and attractive asset as the first James Bond wife.

PLAYHOUSE

Take The Money and Run (now playing) is Woody Allen's episodic farce, full of outrageous one-line jokes and whacky situation set-pieces.

There's no attempt at satire. Allen simply meets each situation with an off-center point of view. No character is ever

EXCITING clothes to replace your winter wardrobe for entertaining or a winter vacation are yours to select from at the PEACOCK ROOM The Lilli Ann coats from San Francisco are made of those precious lihres hand loomed in the Scotland Highlands Other famous names in coats are Davidow and Riva Dresses by Anne Fogarty "collector's items," Jamison and Leslie Fay originals are just a few of the well known names, oh yes, the Strehtz dress made in Northern Ireland.

Sport Whirl dresses and pant dresses, knits by Kimberly, Hanbury and Caprice are the kind of authoritative costuming that commands attention. If you like the dazzling colors and bold designs of the Hawaiian Islands don't go there to shop — go to the PEACOCK ROOM and see the cotton dresses by Tori Richard Ltd of Honolulu.

A NEW WORLD of fragrance and cosmetics, the place — POWDER & PUFF. Perfume has always been a present that makes a woman happy From A to Z we have it, Arpege to Zen by Shiseido — a change and a challenge.

Join the new movement, the action starts with perfumes by Hattie Carnegie, or perhaps you like a perfume that was created in 1572 and has not been changed, a perfume so feminine, so irresistible, of magical potency and bewitching powers — yes, it's Ecusson by Jean D'Albret

Monsieur Rochas is a new concept in men's cologne and after shave, it's a cologne created simply to let a man smell like a man, and then there is Chanel and Brut by Faberge — all for that man in your life.

We also have compacts, atomizer containers, eye lashes by Andrea, Slim Line fingernails and all of our lines of cosmetics are complete — all at the POWDER & PUFF

THE COCK 'N BULL restaurant started in 1962 by Earl Jamison and his wife, Sheila, who believed that enough people preferred dining to eating to make their venture worthwhile. Their belief was well founded and the COCK 'N BULL has grown to be recognized as the most distinctive and inviting restaurant in the area

The Early American decor using authentic antique materials, wall to wall carpeting and two huge fireplaces, generate warmth and atmosphere, with a view (often artificially created by others) overlooking the Village Green.

Service and preperation of food are carefully supervised Steaks and seafood to please the varied tastes of its guest are specialties, but its most popular weekly feature is the buffet — "King Henry's Feast" every Thursday night made to seem aware of his absurdity. Before you are comfortably aware of a familiar situation, humor is quietly released to make an uproarious shambles of logic and predictability.

The film traces the exploits of an ineffectual criminal named Virgil, played by Allen, from a childhood of slum deprivation to notoriety as a thief.

In his rise to the bottom, Allen is involved in a prison break so attentive to detail that the convicts incorporate the guards' underwear in their costumes . . . And then there's the bank robbery in which he misspells the hold-up note and embroils the tellers and bank executives in a linguistic dispute. So it goes, Woody Allen all the way.

How to spend all that glorious Christmas money? Indulge in a Llaso Alpso as a pet, pamper your taste for strawberries in the winter, vacation in Tibet, and of course buy scads of loverly Ladybug fashions so you look your prettiest en route.

Charles Brown, 18; and Rosville Bennet, 19, were each fined $25 for stealing a $125 racing bike, three sweaters and two radios from a Princeton University dormitory. The three were observed Novem ber 26 by off duty Township Pfl. Frank Boccanfuso put ting the bike in the trunk of their car near Palmer Square.

Harn and Bennet were also fined $15 each as minors in possession of alcohol in a mo tor vehicle. A similar charge against Brown was dismissed. Pfl. Charles Harris was the complainant.

YOUTH IS CHARGED

For Hospital Disturbance. An 18 year-old Princeton Junc tion youth has been charged with creating a disturbance at Princeton Hospital late Fri day night while under the in fluence of alcohol.

Scott Cox, 18, of Penn Lyle Road, was picked up at 11:30 at the Catacombs, a teenage gathering place in the base ment of Trinity Church, by Pfl. William Hunter and Pfl. James Bloor. As he was being taken into custody, the offi cers discovered the youth had a badly cut right hand.

They took him to Princeton Hospital where he became be ligerant, police said, used pro fane language and had to be restrained. Cox was later re leased under $100 bail for a Borough court appearance sch eduled for January 21.

The same two officers first went to the Catacombs at 11 p.m. to investigate a report of a fight there. They took a 15 year-old boy, who had been assaulted, to Princeton Hospital where he was treated for a nose bleed and released. His assailant, police said, had been Cox.

MONEY BAG TAKEN

From Bond Cleaners. A mo ney bag containing $106.55 was reported stolen Friday morning from Bond Cleaners, 354 Nassau Street, by the man ager, Mrs Viola Hodge.

Borough police said that a window of the boiler room on the north side of the building had been broken to gain en try. They said the theft took place between 6 p.m. the pre vious night and the time it was discovered the following morn ing.

Pfl. William Hunter and Sgt. Theodore Lewis made the ini tial investigation. It is being continued by Detective Arthur Gallant.

Seminary Kitchen Entered. An entry into the kitchen of the student center on the Princeton Seminary campus was discovered at 6:37 last Wednesday morning.

The kitchen manager, An thony Aspras, told police that a ring holding seven keys to vending machines in the cen ter had been stolen. Several of the machines had been for ced open and $108.70 in coins taken. The keys are still miss ing, police said.

After entering the dining room through an unlocked door the intruder used an iron pok er from a fireplace and a 12 inch butcher's knife to pry open the door to Mr. Aspras' office. Police report that a party in the center had lasted until 2 a.m. the same morn ing. Pfl. Hunter investigated.

Charged With Meter Dam age, Richard B. Seely, 22, of Yardley, a Princeton Univer sity student, has been charg ed with breaking the heads off seven parking meters last week on University Place. He will appear in Borough court January 21 to answer a charge of malicious mischief.

Seely and two other stud ents, who managed to escape, were observed by two univer sity proctors carrying the me ter heads on campus. Each meter head is valued at $60. Sgt. Lewis and Pfl. Thomas Michaud of the Borough made the arrest.

FIREMEN'S POLICY SET

On New Members, "We hope this positive step forward will result in more black men join ing Princeton's fire compan ies," stated Princeton Civil Rights Commission member Max Blumenfeld this week, commenting on a meeting held December 16 between the Com mission and Princeton's three volunteer fire companies.

At the meeting, represen tatives of the companies told the Commission they will con tinue to operate under their existing rules, which require that potential members be sponsored by a man who is already a member.

However, companies agree that sponsorship will not be a problem. Any man who wants to join but lacks con tact with a fireman, can get in touch with any president of a fire company, or with Robert Mooney in Borough Hall, and sponsorship will be arranged.

Mr. Mooney, president of Engine Company Number 3, served as spokesman for all three companies in last week's discussions with the Commis sion.

"The Civil Rights Commis sion will cooperate in seeking possible candidates," Mr. Blu menfeld said.

At a meeting held Novem ber 24, the Commission point ed out to the fire companies that their policy of not active ly recruiting and of requiring sponsorship, could lead to dis crimination.

After that meeting, mem bers of the three companies met to discuss the question, and Mr. Mooney presented their concensus on December 16.

Mr. Blumenfeld said it was the general feeling among Com missioners and firemen that the cadet program started last summer, which will be revived this coming spring, offers an excellent opportunity to inter est young black men in the fire fighting services.

Commissioners hope this ap proach will be actively pur sued by the three companies. Cadets must be in the 16-21 age bracket.

Adults who want to apply, must be in good physical con dition and of good moral char acter.

Appearing for the companies at last week's meeting, in addi tion to Mr. Mooney, were Tho mas Murray, president of En gine Company No. 1; Norman Servis, former president of En gine Company No. 1; Wil liam Toole, president of Hook and Ladder; Robert Schafer, Vice president of Hook and Lad der, and Alexander Duthie, chief.

Robert Hendry, Borough Councilman who is Police Com missioner for the Borough, was also present.

SORRY, MAYOR CAWLEY

New Law Inapplicable. Bor ough mayors in New Jersey will serve four-year terms in stead of two-year terms from now on. But Princeton Bor ough's mayor-elect Robert Cawley misses by a scant month.

The four-year term law was passed by the New Jersey Legislature on December 1, overriding the veto of Governor Richard Hughes.

The measure applies only to mayors elected after passage of the measure and Mr. Cawley of course was elected November 3. If he is re-elected in 1971 after serving his first two-year term, he would be elected at that time for a four-year term.

POLICE CHARGE YOUTH

In School Larceny. An 18-year-old Borough youth has been charged with larceny and a 16-year-old juvenile with attempted larceny by Township police as a result of their apprehension last week in an office in the John Witherspoon School.

Arrested by Patrolmen David and William Potts was Larry A. Spruill, 27 Green St., who was released in his own recognizance after being charged with larceny. The juvenile was released to his parents.

According to police, a secretary discovered Spruill in the office at 12:30 p.m. and asked, "What are you doing here?" Spruill replied that he was looking for someone. The secretary then noticed her purse was open. Missing was $7 cash and an envelope containing $4 in change.

The envelope was later found in a wastebasket in the room. Police report Spruill had more than $60 in his possession when he was arrested.

EXPANSION DENIED

To Lahiere by Zoners. A proposed 1,334 square-foot, 107-seat expansion by Lahiere's Restaurant into the building it owns at 11 and 13 Witherspoon Street was denied last week by the Borough Zoning Board because the applicant could not provide the necessary off-street parking.

The proposed expansion required 21 parking spaces under the Borough zoning ordinance, but attorney Bruce French argued for the applicant, Christen Realty, that only eight were needed. He said that four spaces allocated for a previous use of the building, plus nine more allocated in December, 1965, for banquet space the restaurant had later decided not to develop reduced the parking requirements to eight.

"There is no practical way to provide the parking on the premises," he said. "To deny the application would 'freeze the property in its present use and materially reduce its value."

The board ruled, however, that the building was located in one of the most crowded areas in the Borough and that the expansion would create serious parking and traffic congestion during the day, evening and weekends.

It further found that there was no surplus parking in the area, that numerous other dining establishments were within a few hundred feet of Lahiere's, that the existing dining facilities of the applicant and 11 and 13 Witherspoon did not provide any parking but were, infact non-conforming and that lawful uses for the premises (currently a bakery and barber shop) would generate less traffic and parking congestion than a restaurant.

The board also ruled that no extraordinary or exceptional situation existed other than the applicant's desire to operate the property for a commerical use that would require more parking than the present lawful useage.

The applicant was also in violation of floor-area ratio, coverage, and loading berth requirements. No determination for variances for these was made by the board, however, which based is decision solely on parking.

"No" to Mangone. A case heard on remand from State Superior Court was that of Saverio Mangone, who wants to retain four apartments he owns in two buildings at 43-45 Linden Lane.

Thus snarled case is a textbook example of what can happen when zoning laws are ignored, when they are not known or explained when property changes hand. The board's decision — again denying Mr. Mangone the variances he needs to keep all the apartments — will be referred back to Superior Court.

In an earlier 'no' ruling by the board, Superior Court ruled the zoning board could not merely deny a variance — it had to give ample reasons. The complexity of the case can be gleaned, in part, by the board's most recent decision which contains 25 points and measures five and one-half pages of type on legal size paper.

The board found that there was no record of either building ever being legally converted to two family dwelling units. In essence, it ruled just because past violations through the years had been allowed to continue for one reason or another that this was insufficient reason to continue them or to justify "the considerable zoning relief which any variance comprises."

"Yes" to Harvey. In cases heard last week, the board denied a 3.7 foot side yard variance to Ta Tuan Chen, 14 Forester Drive, that would have permitted him to build a one car garage on the side of his house, and recommended to Mayor and Council a use variance be granted to Paul Harvey, owner of a building at 157 Witherspoon Street.

Mr. Harvey's building is located in a residential-business zone which limits business space on the first floor to not more than 40%. He asked for a variance of about 20 per cent.

A request for a variance based on hardship and a waiver of off street parking sought by Edward Jeffries, owner of the building at 38-42 Witherspoon Street, was denied.

Mr. Jeffries ran afoul of the zoning officer in September when he changed the use of the third floor from apartments to office without notifying the zoning board. The offices are being occupied by the North east Career Center of the United Presbyterian Church which offers occupational and guidance counseling to ministers and full-time church workers.

TRIAL POSTPONED

In SDS Assault Case. The trial of Princeton University senior, Ronald Butler, 21, who has been charged with assault by Borough police after he allegedly pushed a director of the Institute for Defense Analyses during a demonstration there in November, has been carried over to January 13.

Borough Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. said there was no alternative but to grant the delay, after Mr. Butler's attorney, Miss Nadine Taub, reported that she intended to present three Princeton students as defense witnesses. All are home on vacation. The prosecutor, Russell W. Annich Jr., had objected to the postponement.

Butler was one of 60 some Students for a Democratic Society demonstrators who gathered at the IDA building early in the morning on November 18. He allegedly tried to prevent John Harrell, director of computer operations for IDA, from entering the building by shoving him away.

The hearing held Friday at Borough Hall was attended by nearly 50 SDS students. Testifying for the prosecution were Chief Peter J. McGrohan, who ordered Butler's arrest; Sgt. Ralph Procaccino and Mr. Harrell.

Township Court. In Township court held last week, Judge Burton Peskin fined Frederick Armstead, 63, 83 Philip Avenue, Lawrenceville, $20 for making an improper turn at an intersection.

Michael Lohouse, 21, 8 Jeffrey Lane, Princeton Junction, paid $10 for dropping an unregistered car.

BIRTHS

Fourteen Born. Eight boys and six girls were born last week at Princeton Hospital.

Daughters were born to: Mr. and Mrs. William J. Tate, 275 Riverside Drive, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roletter, 20 Van Wyck Drive, Princeton Junction, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nevius, 163 Rogers Avenue, Hightstown, all December 15; Mr. and Mrs. Eduardo Lozano, 9Z Hibben Apts, December 16; Mr. and Mrs. Richard David son, 17 Richford Road, Kendall Park, December 18, and Mr. and Mrs. Andre Maman, 3 College Road, December 19.

Sons were born to: Mr and Mrs. James Applegate, Clarksville Road, Trenton, December 14, Mr and Mrs. Hugh Quinn, 11 Springwood Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Joel Levy, 73 Princeton Arms West, Cranbury, both December 15; Mr and Mrs. Richard Holbrooke, 1N Magie Apts, December 16, Mr and Mrs. Stephen Hirsch, 44 Princeton Arms East, and Mr. and Mrs. Annon Chermisky, Windsor Castle Apts., Cranbury, both December 17, and Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Wolff, 231 Brookstone Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Izhak Rubin, 3C Lawrence Court, both December 20.

APPROVAL IS GIVEN

For Vandeventer Law Office. The Borough Planning Board will recommend site plan approval by Mayor and Council for the 19 Vandeventer Avenue property that Sidney Souter wants to convert to law offices. Council is scheduled to meet next Monday to consider the matter.

The board acted Monday during a brief session which was its last formal gathering. The new Regional Planning Board will hold its first meeting January 6.

The Board decided Monday that Mr. Souter should provide 10 parking spaces, the number the applicant had agreed to create. The driveway between 19 Vandeventer and the home of Leonard La-Placa next door is to be closed and landscaped. There will be no exit on Vandeventer.

Obituaries

Hans G. Bauer, 66, of Elm Ridge Farm, Pennington, died December 18 in Princeton Hospital. He retired a year ago as senior vice-president of the DeLaval Turbine Company.

Born in Germany, Mr. Bauer came to this country in 1931 to manage the American Bauer-Wach Corp., manufacturers of industrial hydraulic couplings. He joined DeLaval in 1937 and in 1948 became a director of the company.

Over the years, Mr. Bauer was cited for his contributions by the United States Navy Bureau of Ships, and by the American Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers. He is a former president of the American Gear Manufacturers Association, a member of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, the American Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, the Society of Naval Engineers, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Greater Trenton Chamber of Commerce.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Erica Bauer, and a son, Peter of Montclair.

A memorial service was held in Princeton University Chapel. Memorial gifts may be sent to the American Cancer Society.

Julian E. Garnsey, 82, died December 16 at his home, 10 Newlin Road. He was a colorist and mural painter.

Mr. Garnsey was responsible for the color design of the 1939-40 World's Fair in New York and was also a color consultant for such projects as the Goodhue Library of the University of California at Los Angeles, the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas, and five of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's housing projects. From 1942 to 1945, he was associate professor of architecture at Princeton University.

Grover A. Whalen, president of the 1939 World's Fair, called the prismatic scheme evolved by Mr. Garnsey a "revelation of what can be done with color in architecture. Nothing like it has ever been done before."

Mr. Garnsey was graduated from Harvard University, Phi Beta Kappa, in 1909. He was a captain of artillery in the First Division of the American Expeditionary Force in World War I and received the French Croix de Guerre. He studied in Paris and at the Art Students League of New York, serving as its president from 1915 to 1917.

He was a member of the Century Club of New York, the Nassau Club, National Society of Mural Painters, Architectural League of New York, which he served as first vice-president in 1941-42; and a member and former trustee of the Beaux Arts Institute of Design.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Julia C. Garney; a son, Elmer E. Garnsey f of Dallas, Texas, and six grandchildren.

The service was held in Trinity Church, the Rev. E. Rugby Auer, vicar, officiating. Interment was private. Arrangements were made by the Kimble Funeral Home.

Dr. Rudolf A. Clemen, 76, former college president and professor of history and economics, died December 17 at Doctors Hospital in Washington, D.C. after a brief illness. A resident of Princeton for more than two decades, he had lived in Washington for the past two years.

Dr. Clemen was born in Halifax, Nova Scotia, where he earned an A.B. degree from Dalhousie University in 1913. Harvard University awarded him an M.A. in 1915 and a Ph.D in 1916. His teaching career began at Purdue University in 1918, but he moved to Evanston, Illinois, the following year and became secretary to President Walter Scott at Northwestern University, where he also was an instructor of history and economics.

During the 1920's, Dr. Clemen was an economist at the Illinois Merchants Trust Company in Chicago and associate director of Armour and Company's Livestock Bureau. In the early 1930's, he was associated with the Century of Progress Exposition which took place in Chicago in 1933 and 1934. From 1934 to 1936 Dr. Clemen was president of Whitman College, Walla Walla, Washington. After a year of lecturing in economics at the University of Washington, he moved to Washington, D.C. in 1937 and was a professor of history and economics for five years at the graduate school of American University.

During World War II, Dr. Clemen became a resident of Princeton, where he taught briefly at the Princeton Theological Seminary and was a leader for 25 years in community activities. At various times he was president of the Historical Association, the Nassau Club, the Archeological Society, the Township School Board, and the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross. He also served on the Board of Trustees of Westminster Choir College and the YMCA.

An author of numerous articles and book reviews for scholarly journals, Dr. Clemen was a founder and secretary of the Society of American Historians and a member of the American Economic Association, the American Historical Association, the American Association of University Professors and the Cosmos Club of Washington, D.C.

He is survived by two sons, Arthur T. Clemen of The Hague, The Netherlands, and Rudolf A. Clemen, Jr. of Washington, D.C.; a sister, Mrs. Fred M. Miller of Utica, N.Y.; and four grandchildren.

The late Mrs. Clemen was the former Margaret Jones of Evanston, Illinois.

Burial was in Chicago.

Austin G. Scherrer, 75, died December 16 at his home, 681 Prospect Avenue. He was a retired sales manager for the National Cylinder Company.

Born in East Orange, Mr. Scherrer was a member of the First Congregational Church and Masonic Lodge of Hackensack.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Marie S. Scherrer; a son, James of Newtown, Pa., two daughters, Mrs. Walter B. Churchill of Yardley, Pa., and Mrs. Frederick Ostergren of New Brunswick; 14 grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Harry G. Strong of Alberta, Canada.

The service was held in the Mather Funeral Home. Interment was in All Saints' Cemetery. Memorial gifts may be sent to any charity.

Mrs. Elisabeth Foulet, 96, of Cherry Hill Road, died December 16 in the Foothill Acres Nursing Home, Neshanic.

A native of Germany, Mrs. Foulet was a longtime resident of the United States and of France, where her late husband had been a member of the faculty of a French university.

Surviving is her son, Professor Alfred Foulet, with whom she lived.

A private service was held, with interment in Princeton Cemetery. The Mather Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

John Marshall, 62, of 168 Alexander Street, died December 17 in Princeton Hospital. He was a refrigeration engineer for the Squibb Company in New Brunswick for 27 years.

Mr. Marshall was born in Linwood. He was a member of Local 8438 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Peter Peiggi of Princeton; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Verne Deeautelle and a stepson, Jacob Melovitz, both of Penns Neck; five grandchildren, five great-grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Marguerite Ware of Finderne.

The service was held in the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. Clifford Staub of Princeton Methodist Church officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Carolyn P. Gates of Moorestown, a teacher in the Borough public schools system for more than a quarter of a century, died December 14.

Mrs. Gates graduated from high school in Moorestown and from Trenton Normal School.

Seaman William D. Metcalf is serving with the U.S. Naval Support Activity in Danang, Vietnam. The 9,000 NSA navy men work round the clock to support some 160,000 U.S. and allied military assistance forces in the I Corps tactical zone. The support group has been awarded the Navy Unit Commendation. Seaman Metcalf is the son of Mrs. F. H. Metcalf, Hale Street, Pennington.

Dr. Oran R. Young, associate professor of politics at Princeton University, is the author of "The Politics of Force," newly published by the Princeton University Press. The volume, Dr. Young's second published study of the role of coercion in politics, examines bargaining during international crises and describes the Berlin crises of 1948-49 and 1961, the Twain Strait crises of 1958 and 1962's Cuban crisis.

Jeffrey Polvina, 231 Dodds Lane, was one of 17 Carnegie Mellon University students recently elected to Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honor society. A 1966 graduate of Princeton High School, Mr. Polvina is a senior at Carnegie Mellon, majoring in mathematics. Tau Beta Pi represents the highest honor that can be obtained by an engineering or science student, and members are selected on the basis of high scholarship and outstanding character.

T. H. "Worth" Andrews, Ridge Road, Kingston, merchandising representative in industrial markets for American Viscose Division of FMC Corporation, has retired after 35 years of service.

Mr. Andrews joined American Viscose in 1934 as a salesman in Philadelphia, Pa., after having been associated with Aberfoyle Mfg. Co. and James Lees & Sons. In 1940 he was transferred to the firm's New York offices and since that time has served in a variety of sales and marketing positions involving vinyon staples, Fiblex yarns and rayon products for automotive and other industrial uses.

He attended Episcopal Academy in Philadelphia, and graduated from Philadelphia Textile Institute in 1932. During World War II, he served on the War Production Board in Washington, D. C.

Nineteen boys from the Princeton area have been named to the Hun School honor roll. They are 12th grade: Joseph Chapuk, Lowell Clark, Mark Luccarelli and Arthur O'Connor; 11th grade: Thomas Chapuk, Neil Clark, Charles Jones, Robert Otway and Carl Thomsen.

10th grade: Robert Bacon, Christopher Lillie, David Ludlum, Thomas Seward, and Thomas Thompson. 9th grade: Edward Beagles, Lawrence Carnevale, Andrew Evatt, Todd Faus and John Soderman.

Stephen Janes of Proctor, Vt., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Janes, 258 Riverside Dr., has appeared in the Proctor Players Production of "The King and I," presented recently.

Mr. Janes, a music teacher at Proctor High School, played the part of Lun Tha, the doomed lover of Tuptim in the Rogers and Hammerstein musical. His wife, Irene, was cast as one of the King's wives and his six-year old daughter, Elizabeth, as one of the King's children.

A Princeton High School graduate and member of the choir, Mr. Janes received a degree in musical education from Wagner College. He served for three years on active duty with the Navy, and was commissioned a lieutenant upon his return from Vietnam. He has also appeared in "The Public Eye," another production by the Proctor Players, the oldest community theatre group in Vermont.

Nicholas L. Ehly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo V. Ehly of Reservoir Road, Hopewell, took part in moving the U.S. Mobile Construction Battalion One from Camp Campbell to Camp Haskins in South Vietnam. Camp Campbell has been turned over to the Army's 101st Airborne Division. Mr. Ehly holds the rank of Navy Equipment Operator Third Class.

Miss Hermone V. Delany, a senior at New York University, has been nominated for a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. An English major, Miss Delany is the daughter of Mrs. Ida H. Delany, 40 Hawthorne Avenue.

Howard J. Winegard, Supervisor of Packaging Services at Union Camp's Research and Development Division, was honored at a ceremony marking 45 years of service with the company, an award was made to him at the annual employees' Christmas dinner.

Mr. Winegard has surpassed his father's length of service with the company. His father retired from the company in 1940, after 43 years of service.

A resident of 86 Franklin Corner Road, Mr. Winegard joined Union Camp in 1924 at the Hudson Falls, N. Y., bag plant as a machine tender.

Airman Bruce D. Scholtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Schultz, 12 Van Kirk Road, has graduated with honors from the training course for U.S. Air Force aircraft mechanics at Sheppard AFB, Tex.

Airman Schultz, who learned to maintain and service turboprop aircraft, has been assigned to Langley AFB, Va., for duty with the 316th Tactical Airlift Wing, a unit of the Tactical Air Command, which provides combat units for air support of U.S. ground forces. He is a 1968 graduate of Lawrence High School.

Glendon T. Odell, since 1966 Head of Library Services at the Cities Service Co. in Grantbury, has been named Assistant University Librarian for Science and Technology at Princeton University. He lives at 143 Hartley Avenue.

Prior to joining Cities Service, Mr. Odell served for eight years as Librarian, Research and Development Division, American Sugar Co. in New York City. His background also includes working as a documentalist with research projects at the University of Pennsylvania and teaching on both the secondary school and college levels.

A 43-year old native of Pennsylvania, Mr. Odell was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania with the Class of 1950. He holds an M.A. degree from Penn and a Master in Library Science from Columbia.

CHRISTMAS TRADITION: The annual Christmas pageant at St. Paul's School, filled with color, dances and young voices in song, took the form of "Christmas in Many Lands" this year. Above are the carolers from the Czechoslovakia scene.

Topics Of The Town

"IF I HAD SIX WISHES" The St. Pauls Test. The famous "Six Wish Test" given annually by the nuns at St Pauls School has a distinctively Yule flavor this year.

"The test gives us a great insight into the children's minds," Sister Gabriella, the principal, says. "And we are often deeply touched by the answers some of them give."

With the Christmas season upon us, some of the youngsters in the upper grades accented "peace" in various forms: "I wish that there wasn't any Viet Nam war, no riots, no cold war and peace for all," a boy wrote.

A girl said, "I like the family I have now, because I fit into it."

In the spirit of the holidays, another child wishes "that for Christmas I could be sure that all the people of the world who are poor could be helped in some way. I wish that they might have as happy a Christmas as me!"

Magic Wand. The "Six Wish Test" covers such things as the family a child would like to have, the friend he wants, the kind of world he wants to live in, the person he'd like to be, the thing he would like to do all day long, and so on.

A girl stated: "At first, I thought that the best kind of world would be still and sublime with fields of daisies and friendly animals. To try out this type of world, I went to a secluded yard that is vacant this time of year, save for squirrels, birds and a few stray cats.

"For a half hour, it was pacifying just to read and thunk, until I realized that this isn't right at all. This isn't the kind of world I want or the kind I was meant to live in. People need people."

And another child stated that his ideal family would be "half and half amount of boys and girls. Everyone works and plays together as one with no fights."

A girl included thoughtfully, "A family should be first friends, then relatives."

"I would choose a family like the one I have . . . four children, two parents and one dog," said another. "In my opinion, my family is the greatest."

"My father and I would go hunting by ourselves, and be companions," wrote a boy of the family he'd like to have. And an older girl said, "It would be the family I have now. I only wish we could do more things together . . ."

For A Friend. The question, "If you could have anyone in the world for a friend, who would you choose?" drew a strong response for understanding. "Someone who is there when I need him, who understands me, and who I can trust . . ." was said by many in various ways.

Others, particularly the boys, want no change in friends: "It would be the friends I now hang around with," said one, in part.

"I'd choose the ones I have now. They are funny and fun to be with, even though they are too funny at times," wrote another.

"Vice president Spiro Agnew," responded another. He could show me how the conditions of the world really are. President Nixon would be too busy." Another boy chose Bob Hope. "He is a man who knows how and when to laugh . . ."

"I would want a surfer," said a girl. "Then we would have something in common. "Someone who is good in sports," a boy decided. "Because then we won't be lying around the house doing nothing . . ."

What to Do. The things they'd like to do all day long range from a girl's emphatic "read, read, read!" to "it would be eating." Others replied "go hunting for one whole day"; "just be with my friends and have a good time all the time"; "go to the beach" and even, "I'd like to eat Italian foods and sweet candy."

While a boy said he'd happily play golf all day, and another chose basketball, a girl commented frankly, "I don't think I could do any one thing all day long."

"Myself!" Most of the young people decided that "if they could be anyone they wanted," they would be themselves. "I can't imagine myself being someone other than I really am. Of course, I'd take out some bad points and put in a few good ones, but basically, I'd be what I am and what I'm going to be."

"WE WISH YOU A MERRY CHRISTMAS!" Judy McAvenia (left) and Addie Arcamone, standing by the bow-trimmed Christmas tree in St. Paul's School, are among the young people at the school who wrote answers to the "If I Had Six Wishes" test. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert McAvenia of 17 Fisher Place and Mr. and Mrs. Americo Arcamone of 22 Chestnut Street.

Thinking about Christmas, an 8th grade girl wrote: "Five years ago, Christmas was good at St. Nick. Last year it was holidays, presents and a little God. But this year, my outlook has really changed. I've come to the conclusion that God IS Christmas."

A boy summed up all hopes in the succinct wish for a family where fighting between members would be none."

190 COURSES OFFERED

For Rider Summer Session. Rider College is already mapping plans for its most ambitious summer program ever. This year, a split curriculum will offer 190 courses in two consecutive five-week sessions, beginning in late June.

The courses offered range from Vietnam studies to backyard ecology; the latter will be investigated on a special conservation tract in a remote corner of the college's campus in Lawrence township.

The special split sessions designed to help a student accelerate his studies or make up courses without losing all his vacation — were initiated two years ago and have proved quite successful. The 1969 program attracted a record total of 3,250 students from Rider and 116 other colleges.

The summer catalog detailing all courses to be offered in both the June and the August sessions is in preparation now. It will be available in February, according to summer session director Joseph C. Dorgan. Starting dates of the two sessions are June 23 and August 3.

The course dealing with Vietnam will be taught by Dr. P. T. Chau, a native of that country and former member of the Vietnamese Embassy in Washington. The ecology course is part of an expanded biology program that will include genetic biology, environmental biology and organismic biology. Biology courses will be open to qualified high school students as well as college students.

Also new on the list are courses in criminology, public relations, urban community studies, modern American drama, radio and television communications, racial and ethnic relations, industrial sociology, structural linguistics, foundations in geometry, historical and physical geology, and math for elementary teachers.

INTERN PROGRAM SET

By Community Affairs Dept. The New Jersey Department of Community Affairs has announced it is now accepting applications from college and graduate students for next summer's Interns in Community Service program.

The 11-week program, which will place the students in agencies of challenging public service positions throughout the state, will begin June 15 and run two day or night sessions. Participants will hold full-time jobs through August at municipal, county and

Do you wish Christmas meant more to you?

There are some who think that the Christmas story no longer has any meaning.

But the coming of the Christ is not just an isolated event that took place 2,000 years ago. For many, the joy and the inspiration of the Christ spirit come daily to help and to heal.

If you would like to know what Christmas can really mean to you, you will find some very good answers in the Christian Science Reading Room.

There you may read about the birth and the life of Jesus in the Bible. And, there you may find a book that illumines his teachings and shows you how they can inspire and uplift you today. It is called "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Won't you come in and spend a few minutes of quiet study and prayer?

state offices, multi-poverty and Model Cities programs, and in some public-oriented private agencies.

Seminars on public affairs topics are scheduled during the course of the program. The application deadline is April 1.

There are no age, sex or marital status restrictions. Students regularly enrolled as undergraduates or graduates at accredited colleges or universities are eligible to apply. In general, applicants must demonstrate a balance of high academic achievement and evidence of interest or involvement in community or public affairs.

The interns are paid according to the standard Civil Service pay scale for student assistants, ranging from $2 an hour for college freshmen to $3.25 an hour for graduate students.

Applications may be obtained by writing to: Interns in Community Service, New Jersey Department of Community Affairs, P.O. Box 2768, Trenton, 08625. Those postmarked on or before April 1 will receive full consideration. Those received after the deadline will be considered only for the waiting list.

WE DO!

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE YOUNG DRIVER —

Whenever you drive, you are showing your faith and trust in untold hundreds or thousands of human beings you do not know, and they are demonstrating their faith in you.

When you drive, you are betting your life that these strangers can be trusted to drive on their own side of the road, stop for red lights, yield when you have the right of way, and obey all the other traffic rules. You are betting your life on the honesty and decency and courtesy of strangers.

If we couldn't trust our lives to 99 percent of the people who drive, we would never get behind the wheel. The personal risk would be too great and the insurance costs more than we could pay.

Most of the time, when there is an accident, there is also proof that someone broke the faith. Improper passing, running red lights, turning without a signal, reckless driving. Just as you have to trust your life to the honesty, skill and judgment of strangers, so must they put their lives in your hands on advance faith alone. Think of this when you drive.

Each car you meet and safely pass represents one more human being who has staked his life on your respect for the law and on your skill and judgment. What greater faith and trust could anyone ask . . .
Take care. We care.

Take Care! We Care.

INSIGHTS

On Sight

To drive safely is to see well — all the time you're behind the wheel. You know that. But you may not know the answers to some often-asked questions about how to set your sights on the road correctly. For instance:

Q. What is "highway hypnosis" and how can it be avoided?

A. The humdrum monotony of unchanging freeways and turnpikes, wind noise and motor drone often lulls a motorist into automatic driving that breaks the connection between eyes and brain. This lack of alertness — more highway "sleepwalking" than hypnois — result in failure to react fast enough in an emergency.

The best way to avoid automatic driving is to have a passenger in the car who will talk with you and keep your mind alert. Or play the radio loud enough to be slightly irritating and if necessary listen to a program that you dislike or disagree with. You can sing or whistle to yourself. Also be aure to stop for frequent rests, eat lightly and don't try for a daily distance that will be fatiguing.

Q. Why are the early evening hours so dangerous for driving?

A. Safety experts say that as daylight fades from twilight into darkness, many drivers have difficulty adjusting to the changing light conditions. It's easy for these drivers to blunder into a twilight trap in which daylight has almost disappeared and artificial light (from street lights and headlights) doesn't yet do much good. Heavy rush-hour traffic conditions contribute to the twilight threat.

Q. While driving, should I keep my eyes carefully fixed on the road ahead — "glued to the road?"

A. No — at least not in the sense of staring at a certain point on the road. Professional driver-trainers have found that the safest drivers keep their eyes roving constantly up and down the road, to the sides, and with frequent glances at the rearview mirrors. This helps them spot potentially hazardous situations, such as a car pulling from a side road, in time to avoid an accident.

Q. What is "depth perception?"

A. Your two eyes must work together well, each providing the brain with a picture very similar to the other's, so that the brain can superimpose the two pictures and interpret the depth.

Often persons over 30 suffer a loss of vision in one eye sufficient to impair this "binocularity." They find themselves stopping short of an intended mark or rolling beyond it. They bump the back of the garage or brush fenders in a parking lot.

This is a danger signal indicating the need for immediate medical attention — to save your sight and perhaps your life as a driver. You need to be able to judge — perhaps hundreds of times during your driving day — how much time you need to stop, slow down, speed up or change lanes. Only with accurate depth perception can you tell how far away things are.

Rx OUTDATED FIRST AID

Are you keeping up to date? Red Cross officials point out the following:

CUTS. A careful washing with gauze dipped in soap and water is recommended; Iodine and other germ-killers should not be applied because they can kill tissue and retard healing.

BURNS: Never apply butter or other household grease. For a minor burn, apply cold running water or a cloth dipped in cold water until the pain stops. For a serious burn, when the skin is broken, apply a dry sterile dressing, held in place by a bandage.

SPORTS in Princeton

PRINCETON VS. INDIANA

In First Basketball Game. The opening round of the Beau n Classic in Los Angeles Saturday will confront Princeton's Ivy League basketball team with Indiana of the Big Ten. It will be the first time the two have met in this sport, or any other.

Georgia Tech and the host team, UCLA, will oppose each other in the second game. Winners and losers will be paired Monday night, with the opening contest starting at 10 p.m. Eastern Standard Time and the second at midnight.

Princeton had a 19-6 record last winter against some fairly tough opposition and won all 14 of its league games. Indiana was 9-15 and its 4-10 mark in its conference lodged it in the cellar.

Still and all, there is no reason to believe the Tigers will win, because they haven't played more than three halves of good basketball. The opened well against NYU and were impressive in the first 20 minutes against Villanova.

Defensive Problems. Thereafter, even though defeating Maryland and Navy while losing to Penn, the offense has sputtered and the defense has fallen well short of expectations. Unlikely to be a high scoring team, the Tigers will stand or fall in the close games on their ability to hold down the opposition's total.

Jeff Petrie's return in the Navy game last week is a major bonanza, but his primary contribution is expected to be on offense. His back injury has slowed his mobility, and it is unlikely that he can be assigned to one of the other guys' highest scorers, as he has in the past.

Indiana (3-1) on the season has given some indication that it is stronger than last year. The Hoosiers have trimmed Northern Illinois, Loyola of Chicago and Kansas State, while losing to Ohio University, Kentucky and Notre Dame.

The Big Ten quintet is taller than Princeton (as most teams are these days), its two big men going 6-8 and 6-6 and one half. Indiana rebounds well and likes to work the ball in for a good shot rather than depend on outside shooting. Defensively, it is likely to rely on a zone. Petrie's return, and his normally hot outside shooting, are accordingly a solid boost for the Tiger's chances.

WELCOME BACK: Jeff Petrie's surprise return to action in the Navy game last week was marked by a 20-point performance. The Tiger co-captain (45) played 36 minutes despite the fact that he had only been practicing with the team for two days.

Tigers Outshot Again. For the second time in the three games it has won, the Orange and Black trailed in number of field goals made and in shooting percentages but managed to prevail with a superior performance at the foul line. Princeton made 24 of 53 shots from the floor for 44 percent to 26 of 56 and 46 per cent for Navy. The 67-60 triumph made them 3-2 on the season.

In free throws, however, the victors were 19 for 27, while Navy got only 16 chances and made but half of them. Biggest plus for the Tigers was an 8-for-9 performance by John Hummer after he had trouble making 6-7 per cent of his shots in earlier games.

Although the contest was fairly close throughout, Princeton trailed only once — at 21-20 with four minutes to go in the first half. The Tigers had a 14-5 advantage in the early going, saw that whittled away but regained a 30-29 margin at the intermission.

Petrie hit on the first four shots he took in the second period to help the Tigers keep the game out of Navy's reach. The middies were as close as 46-41 midway through the final round, but then rallied, 62-49, before closing the gap to seven points at the end.

Hummer matched Petrie's 20 points, and junior Bill Sickler added 13 to concentrate virtually all the scoring among these three. Sophomores Al Dufty and Reggie Bird rounded out the starting quintet, which played about 85 per cent of the game.

Petrie's return will take some of the extreme pressure off Hummer, opening up the opposing defenses to meet the outside threat the former poses. Both Villanova and Penn stopped the Tigers through ability to collapse on Hummer when there was no strong shot from beyond the foul circle.

OH, FOR AN OFFENSE!

But Tiger Six Improves. If the Princeton hockey team could bother opposing goalies enough, its chances of breaking into the victory column would improve measurably. In losing both games in the Great Lakes Invitational Tournament last weekend in Detroit, the Tigers managed a total of only 36 shots on goal.

Still and all, they came away from the two-day action considerably better off than had been anticipated. Friday night, they barely lost to Michigan State, 2-1; Saturday, Michigan Tech was a 3-2 winner.

First-period goals by both teams kept the Michigan State game even for the greater part of the contest. State turned the light on as early as 2:45 of the opening round, sophomore Jack Hepburn pulling the Tigers even some 16 minutes later.

That was all the scoring until 3:44 of the final period, when MSU's Bob Gagnon beat Maddy Thigpman with the deciding tally. The Tiger goalie made 36 saves, a number of them spectacular, to keep the contest close. The losers had only 17 shots on target.

Saturday night, Michigan Tech scored twice in the opening round and stayed in control throughout the game, outshooting the Orange and Black, 33-19. Tom Payne and Jack McNab scored for Princeton.

New Hampshire was the surprise victor in the tournament, winning, 7-0, over Michigan Tech Friday, and topping Michigan State, 5-4, in the championship game.

HUN WINS FIRST TWO

In Hightstown Tourney. After winning its first two games, one a 52-51 squeaker, the Hun School basketball team will not be idle during the Christmas holidays as in past years.

The Red and Black is one of four schools in the Hightstown High Tournament which will be played Monday and Tuesday at the Hightstown gym.

Monday, in the first game at 7 p.m., Hun will meet Pemberton. Lawrence High School will oppose Hightstown at 8:30. The winners and losers will meet the following night.

Hun won its second game of the season Friday when it defeated Morristown Prep on the loser's court, 61-48. Ahead 26-25 at the half, Hun got rolling in the third period when it outscored Morristown, 22-11.

Guard Mike Maguire played a steady game, according to coach Dave Leete. The native Princetonian hit for a game high 21 points and pulled down 27 rebounds. Mike Rossi contributed 14 and Rich Ziegler 18, to account for all but nine of Hun's points.

10-Point Lead Disappears. Things were a lot stickier for the Red and Black in its home opener two days earlier a gainst Toms River. After building a 10-point margin against the shore quintet, Hun had trouble with a full-court press, which Toms River used to gain a 51-51 tie.

Bill Crawford's foul shot with 10 seconds remaining, one of six free throws converted by Hun, proved to be the winning margin. Actually, Hun won the game from the charity stripe because in the entire game, Huns charged with only five fouls, and of these Toms River managed to sink only one. The loss was Toms River's third without a victory.

Leete cited the play of Maguire, Rossi and Ziegler in the first two games. Ziegler alternates between center and forward; Rossi is a forward. All were members of Hun's undefeated football team.

"We're off to a good start, but we still have a lot of work to do," commented Leete. Hun will resume its regular schedule January 7 against newcomer St. Anthony's.

PHS SKATERS TIRE

Lose to Cranford, 5-3. At the end of two periods last week, PHS led favored Cranford in hockey, 3-2. Co-captain Phil Mathews had scored all three goals for the Little Tigers.

But Cranford in the final period was able to fan the PHS goalie three times for a 5-3 win.

"It's not disappointing, this defeat," said coach Dan McGuire. "It's a little hard to take, after leading like that, but I think we played admirably. We were definitely tired at the end, too tired."

PHS was hampered by the loss for much of the game of John Webber who was injured. In addition, McGuire reported Paul Donahue was keep off the ice for quite a while with a bruised eye.

"Losing Webber right at the beginning really hurt, because we don't have the bench strength we would like," McGuire added. He described the action in the final period as super-tense. "It was a hard fought game, believe me," he said.

During the holiday break, McGuire said that he hoped the players could get in some much needed ice time — an ever-present problem for a team with no home ice. The Little Tigers will next face Wissahickon away on January 8.

CANADIANS WIN

Take Lawrenceville Tournament. Upper Canada College defeated Lakefield School, the other Old Dominion entry, 1-0 in sudden death overtime Saturday to win the 22nd annual Lawrenceville School Hockey Tournament. It was the first time in history of the event that two teams from north of the border had met in the finals.

Petrie and Hummer Seem Sure to Top 1,000 Points

With his return to action last week, Jeff Petrie moved 20 points closer to becoming a member of a club to which only seven Princeton basketball players belong.

It's the "1,000 Point Club," and if his bout with a back injury is over, the Tiger co-captain is sure to make it long before the current season ends. He now has 896 — 335 as a sophomore and 541 last winter, plus 20 so far in 1969.

Harold "Bud" Haabestad was the first to attain membership, scoring 1,092 points before he graduated in 1955. Bill Bradley, of course, is the president, his 30.1 average in 83 games giving him 2503 — more than 1000 points ahead of second place Pete Campbell.

Haabestad is third; others are Chris Thomforde, 1122; Carl Belz, 1033; Art Hyland, the Tiger freshman coach; and Jim Brangan, 1032.

A sophomore year during which he was sidelined with a foot injury will delay John Hummer's entry into the club until near the end of the current campaign, but at the rate he has scored in the first five games, he will make it. The Tiger co-captain got only 183 points in his first year on the varsity but hit for 410 last season.

To that total of 593, he has already added 94 in the first five games this month. That 687 total should become 1000 in another 17 games or so — a couple of weeks before the season ends.

The winning goal came at 6:52 of the extra session on a ten-foot shot by defenseman Pete Brown. Upper Canada had not played in Baker Rink since its last appearance here in 1958, when it also won.

On its way to the finals, UCC blanked Choate, 3-0, Friday morning and edged Belmont Hill of Massachusetts, 6-5, in FINAL YEAR: Ferris Thomsen, lacrosse coach at Princeton since 1951, will make this spring his final season before retirement. Under his guidance, Tigers have won or shared first place in Ivy League 11 times since formal play began in 1956. Assistant coach Art Robinson is his likely successor.

the semifinal round that night. Lakefield rallied to defeat Andover, 3-2, a penalty shot deciding the game after the score was tied 2-2 at the final whistle. In the semifinals, Lakefield toped defending champion Nichols School of Buffalo, 4 to 1.

Third place went to Nichols when it defeated Belmont Hill, 4-3, in overtime. Andover won its last two games, swamping Lawrenceville, 11-1 and conquering Taft, 5-2, to earn fifth place. Lawrenceville wound up seventh when it defeated winless Choate, 4 to 3.

PHS AT BRISTOL

For Holiday Tournament. A Princeton High School basketball team which may have had its early season confidence ragged away Friday in the wake of a 70-33 defeat to Trenton High School will have a chance to find itself during a holiday tournament, one of 18 in the Delaware Valley area.

Princeton is one of four schools in the Bristol Holiday which will be held December 27 and 30 at Bristol High School in Pennsylvania. On Saturday, PHS will oppose Bristol at 9 p.m. In the 7 p.m. opener it's Holy Ghost vs. Yeadon. The consolation and championship games will be played on Wednesday.

"We have a pretty good chance in the tournament," said PHS coach Larry Ivan. He reported that Holy Ghost was 6-0, Bristol 2-4, and we're 2-2. I had expected to be 3-1 by now," he added.

Outrebounded 51-20. When a team is outrebounded 51-20, its chances of winning are near zero unless its shots are dropping. But if nt the same time it makes only 23 percent of 52 shots, then it has no chance at all.

PHS was on the short end of the rebounding and the score in Friday's jarring 70-33 loss to Trenton. "Fifty one to 20 in rebounding . . . that pretty bad. That's the ball game right there," observed Ivan.

"Losing Taggart hurt us some (Tim Taggart, a starter, had flown to California with his parents for the holidays) but I doubt it made that much difference. Trenton wanted it. They were sky high."

PHS losing to Trenton is incidentally, nothing new. In fact, there may have never been a victory over the Tornadoes.

Friday's loss to Trenton was No. 5 for Ivan, now starting his third year as coach. "I did some research on this because I got interested myself when we last defeated Trenton," Ivan said, "and it seems that no one can ever remember Princeton beating them. This goes back to the early '30's so that's quite a record."

Only Two Fast Breaks. PHS used it superior height and domination of the boards to get off 69 shots to 52 for Princeton High. "They only had two fast breaks the entire game, but they would take five or six shots underneath every time," Ivan said.

To make sure PHS never got off the floor, Trenton — rare for the Tornadoes — used a full court press to harrass the visiting Blue and White. "The constant pressure — it hurt," said Ivan.

"We are working on that and if we can solve it, we'll solve one of our big problems. It's evident to anyone scouting us that the kids lose their poise. We're losing the ball in the forecourt too much."

"We lost 14 balls. That's too many. Against a quick ball club like Trenton, it's sudden death," Ivan continued. "The first period (16-7, Trenton) we weren't too bad, but the constant pressure began to take its toll.

"I hope we can rebound. There are other ball games to worry about other than Trenton."

One thing PHS does need is an outside shooter. Against THS ,no one reached double figures, Paul Riddell and Jeff Haring getting nine each and Bob Sweeney, six. Marc Darrow had five.

Harold Johnson, Lou Hill and Jim Womack combined for 49 points and 42 rebounds to pace Trenton. The victory was Trenton's first in three starts.

RIDING TIME VICTIM: Dave MacDonald battled his North Hunterdon opponent to an 8-8 tie on the mat last week but lost the bout on riding time, 9-8.

4 PHS MATMEN SEEDED In Central Jersey Event.

Four Princeton High School wrestlers are seeded first in their class in the first Central Jersey High School Wrestling Tournament which will be held Saturday at Lawrence High School. The final round of matches for the day-long event, which is being sponsored by the Lawrence Jaycees, will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Seeded first from Princeton are Dave MacDonald, 106 pound class; Mark Evans, 115 pounds; Chris Mislow, 168 pounds; and LouJohn Rossi, heavyweight. Rossi is undefeated in two matches this year.

Taking part in this first tournament in addition to Princeton High School, are Ewing, Trenton, Lawrence, Notre Dame, Hopewell Valley, Allentown and Riverside.

Friday's scheduled match with Notre Dame was postponed until February 24. In another schedule change, Tuesday's contest with Hopewell Valley was moved ahead one day to Monday. For the outcome of that match, see page 26.

No Match for Hunterdon. Last week, the Little Tigers were routed by visiting North Hunterdon, which swept all bouts but the last one for a 37-3 victory. "They're just too good for us; they're out of our class," said PHS coach Tom Murray.

Rossi got Princeton's only points when he decisioned North Hunterdon heavyweight Ron Tatariw, 9-4. Rossi led 4-0 on a takedown and reversal and increased his lead to 7-2, when he had his opponent in a predicament.

Dave MacDonald battled his opponent to an 8-8 tie, but then lost the match on riding time, 9-8. John Cushman dropped another one-point decision in the 136-pound class, losing, 4-3.

Powerful North Hunterdon recorded two pins on the way to victory in its opening meet of the season. Jeff Mathews pinned PHS 130-pounder Chris Conrad and Steve Gaent flattened Mislow in 3:27.

AWARDS PRESENTED

At Midget Football Ceremony. The presentation of trophies to the top teams in each division of the Midget Football League highlighted the annual awards and graduation ceremony, which closed out the league's fifth season December 13.

Stanley Hubbs, representing Matthews Construction Company, the top team in the senior division, received the TOWN TOPICS trophy from Pres Eekmeder, assistant editor. The Center Sports Trophy was awarded by league vice-president Jack Petrone to Jack Sapoch, general manager of the J.P. Cleaver Co., sponsors of the winning team. Sapoch is also the league's commissioner.

Sandy Reynolds, president, Dick Thompson, executive vice president, and John Budd, vice president and treasurer, conducted the ceremonies. Jake McCandless, Princeton University's head football coach, gave a short talk, and filmed highlights of the midget league were screened as were scenes from the Tigers' games of the past season.

Framed pictures of the teams were presented to each sponsoring company. In the Senior Division, in addition to Matthews, awards went to Princeton University Store, Nassau-Conover Motors, and Princeton Fuel Oil Co. Junior Division sponsors honored were, in addition to Cleaver, First National Bank, Hilton Realty Co., and Buxton's Country Shops.

Some 205 players and their parents participated in the event. Trophies were awarded to 41 boys who graduated from the program by virtue of age or weight.

PDS SEXTET VICTORIOUS

In New England Tourney. Playing with a defense as tight as the current money market, the Princeton Day School hockey team came a way with all the marbles in the Fifth Annual Christmas Hockey Tournament, sponsored by the Milton and Noble and Greenough Schools last week end.

Beginning with its opening round game with Milton through the championship contest with Berkshire, the Panthers allowed but one goal. Fine defensive work by co captains Jim Rodgers and Deebs Young and Buzz Wood worth combined with efficient and sometimes superlative goal tending by Tom O'Connor and Chris Reeve, and just enough scoring punch to capture the championship in the first attempt.

In the key contest of the three, a semi final match against Kent, dubbed by many as the tournament favorite the Blue and White gave up an early first period goal to the opposition, and did not tie the score until midway through the final period.

Fred Schluter took a pass from Jim Rodgers and beat the goalie on a quick wrist shot Regulation time ended with the score still 1 1.

Solo Effort by Schluter. Four minutes into the overtime Schluter got control of the puck around the center line and on a fine individual effort got around the Kent defense and whipped home a 20-foot backhand shot for the game winning score.

Coach Harry Rulon Miller credited his squad with fine teamwork, and plenty of hustle against a bigger Kent team. He praised Reeve for "playing an inspired game" in the nets.

The win sent PDS into the finals against Berkshire on Saturday afternoon. The teams played on fairly even terms for the first period and a half, and seemed destined to continue in a scoreless deadlock until a stroke of luck, equal to anything the New York Mets ever saw in the World Series, gave PDS the lead.

Sam Rodgers skating into the Berkshire zone left a drop pass for his brother, Jim, who fired a hard 35 footer at the cage. The puck flew by the cage, struck the backboards behind, bounced back by the cage striking the goalie's skate and slid into the net.

O'Connor Gets Shutout. The Panthers held on to their God-given lead until five minutes were left, when Schluter put the contest and the championship on ice with his fourth goal of the tournament. O'Connor registered his second shutout in the ness, also blanking Milton in the opening contest.

In the opening game against Milton the Blue and White got an early goal from Schluter in the first period and held on to the lead the rest of the way Sam Rodgers accounted for the second goal, when, after Milton had pulled its goalie to tie, stole the puck at center ice and sailed it into the empty cage, sealing the 2 0 triumph.

Three PDS players, Jim Rodgers, Reeve and Schluter were named to the all tournament team, with Rodgers also winning most valuable player designation. Fred King, a former PDS player, made the all tournament squad playing for Berkshire Two PDS alumni playing for Kent were Basil Stetson and Mark Lane.

Sporting a 3 0 record and a tournament championship, the Panthers will break for the holidays and return to action Wednesday, January 7, against Cranford Hockey Club on their home ice.

PHS QUINTET WINS

Tops Lawrence, 40 to 35. A basketball team which makes only 12 points in the first half isn't a likely winner these days, unless the opposition has a packful of problems, too. That would be Lawrence High, which managed only three foul shots in the third period Monday night, thus paving the way for a Princeton High rally that enabled the Little Tigers to win, 40 to 35.

PHS scored only four points in the second quarter, and was on the short end of a 20-to-12 count at the intermission. Then Paul Riddell scored a dozen points in the final half to lead Larry Ivan's team to its third victory against two losses.

8 DECISIONS, 1 PIN

As PHS Wrestlers Triumph. A 29-to-11 victory was recorded Monday night by the Princeton High School wrestling team on the strength of eight decisions and a fall. The latter went to Bobby Arcaro in the 141 lb. class.

Others who won for the Little Tigers were Dave MacDonald, Mark Evans, Chris Cassard, John Cushman, Isaac Menache, Chris Mislow, Larry Parker and Joe John Rossi. The team's record is now 2-1.

GIRLS WIN FIRST

In Swimming, 106-102. The girls team of the Princeton YMCA Flying Fish won its first meet in three tries last week when it defeated Summit here, 106 102. The boys lost their first in three to host Somerset Valley, 120 88.

Double winners for the girls were Carol Wagner, who won the 10 and under 25 yard free style and 25-yard breaststroke in 15.0 and 18.7; Margaret Jillson, who captured the 100 yard individual medley in 1:15.3 and 50-yard breaststroke in 1.15.3 and 37.0, competing in the 12 and under bracket; and Margaret Martin.

Margaret set a new Princeton pool record in the 15 17 100-yard breaststroke with her time of 1:19.1. She won the 100-yard butterfly in 1:19.0.

Other winners were Margo Constable, Mary Damuth, Currie Bolster, Rika Pierson, Carol McGrath, Peggy Jabay, DeeDee Henneman and Maura Dorgan. Miss Dorgan's clocking of 1.09 9 set a new pool record for the 13.14 100 yard backstroke.

For the boys, Beaver O'Hara, 10 and under, and Peter Manieri, 11 12, were double winners. Others, Bill Cook, Tom McKenna, Haywood Miller, Andy Bolster and Mike Martin.

Jim Bolster, Tom McKenna, Kendall Price and Mike Reed, captured the 13 14 200 yard relay in 1 46.2 Rick Waite, Mike Martin, David Schmidt and Tom Gilman won the same event in the 15 17 age bracket. Their time was 1 45.5.

She is survived by her husband, Archie T. Gates; a brother, Clarence H. Prout; and a sister, Mrs. Martha P. Yancey. The funeral was held in Moorestown, with burial in Sunset Park, Pennsauken.

Lland B. Epps Jr., 26, of Lawrence Court Apartments, Princeton, died December 19 in Hampton, Va., when his car went off the road. He was a graduate student in chemical engineering at Princeton University.

Mr. Epps was a graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, where he also received a master's degree. He was on leave from NASA, working in the field of polymers at Princeton.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Sherril M. Epps; a son, John; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lionel B. Epps Sr. of Newport News, Va.; his sister, Miss Laura M. Epps, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Charles Wilburn of Halifax, Va.

The service was held in Hampton, Va. Memorial gifts may be made to the Virginia Polytechnic Institute Alumni Fund.

Charles K. Metcalfe, 66, of 335 Cold Soil Road, Lawrenceville, died December 21 in Lower Bucks County Hospital following an automobile accident on December 7. He was an engineer with the Warner Company of Morrisville, Pa.

A member of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church, Mr.

ALC REVENUES TRIPLE

Growth Results in Small Loss. Applied Logic Corporation has just reported that its gross revenues in fiscal 1969 grew to 263 per cent of the level they attained a year ago.

It was the company's seventh consecutive record-breaking year in this respect, although the costs of rapid expansion caused a slight overall loss for the year.

Revenues totalled $3,090,109 for the year ended September 30, an increase of 163 per cent over the 1968 figure of $1,176,080. Dr. James R. Guard, company president, reported that losses for fiscal 1969 amounted to $75,235, or 4 cents per share, compared to earnings of $90,899 or 6 cents a share during 1968.

The loss was incurred by heavy investments in new facilities, by a substantial personnel increase (from 100 to 217) and by the purchase of additional computer hardware. Total operating cost was $1,331,944. The personnel growth was mainly in management and marketing, while the new hardware has tripled the firm's time-sharing capabilities, according to Dr. Guard.

Applied Logic Corporation has accupied a new main administrative office and a new computer building, in which its third time-sharing system was operating by the end of the fiscal year.

The fourth, fifth and sixth systems are now installed and are scheduled to begin commercial operating during the first half of fiscal 1970. Dr. Guard has indicated that the staffing of a strong management team is the basis for profitable operations for years to come.

IEEE PRESENTS AWARD

To RCA Consultant. Dr. Harry F. Olson, 71 Palmer Sq. West, has been presented with the 1969 Consumer Electronics Award of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers for his many achievements and contributions toward the improvement of consumer electronic home instruments.

Presently a consultant to RCA Laboratories, Dr. Olson, until his retirement two years ago, had been a staff vice-president and director of the firm's Acoustical and Electromechanical Research Laboratory.

The holder of more than 100 U.S. Patents, Dr. Olson has pioneered in such areas as the development of microphones, loudspeakers and headphones; the magnetic recording of television signals; and the development of underwater acoustical devices.

CAREER DAY PLANNED

By Chamber of Commerce. Representatives of eight Princeton area firms will attend Career Day at the Nassau Inn Monday, to discuss employment possibilities with individual college seniors and graduate students. The interviews will be held from 9 to 4 in the Lawis Room.

Interested job-seekers may register and pick up literature describing the firms of their choice at the session. Companies participating in the second annual Career Day are the American Can Company, American Cyanamid Company, Applied Logic Corporation, IBM Corporation, National Lead Company, RCA Astro Electronic Division, RCA Laboratories and the Western Electric Company.

Career Day is sponsored annually by the Chamber of Commerce. Further information may be obtained by calling 921-7676.

HIGHER DIVIDEND SET

At Princeton Savings. A new, higher dividend rate will be paid on regular savings accounts at Princeton Savings and Loan Association, William H. Boozer Jr., Executive Vice President, has announced.

"Anticipated for the period beginning January 1, regular savings accounts will earn 4¼% a year, compounded and credited quarterly, an increase over the previous dividend of 4½% a year," Mr. Boozer said. "We will, of course continue to offer our exceedingly popular six months savings certificates at 5¼% a year, when opened with a minimum of $1,000.

"In arriving at this decision, our directors considered our strong reserve position, and were also conscious of the fact that many savers maintain two types of accounts, savings certificates and regular savings. Our savings certificate rate is the highest in the United States, and now our regular savings will also be the highest we are allowed to pay."

Princeton Savings, organized as a family thrift institution more than 50 years ago, maintains offices at 19 Chambers Street.

Metcalfe lived in this area for 27 years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Edith F. Metcalfe; two sons, Clive C. of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. and Robert W. of Ewing Township; four daughters, Mrs. Marion Reynolds of Hurleyville, N. Y.; Mrs. Eleanor Sharon of Middletown, N. News Of The CHURCHES

NATIVITY PAGEANT SET

At First Presbyterian. On Christmas Eve, First Presbyterian Church again offers a pageant of the Nativity at a half-hour service at 5 p.m. and at an adult service at 10 p.m.

The junior choir will sing at the earlier service, which includes Christmas music, carol singing by the congregation and brief prayers. At 10, the music portion of the service, under the direction of Charlene and Stephen Weicksel, is expanded. A high school choir of 48 members will participate.

The members of the pageant include Mary Vivian, Leslie Vial, David Cornell, Bob Aldridge, Gibby Welsbecker, Ken Buckland, Baylis Stair, Michael Novak and Chris Upchurch. The Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel, pastor, will read from the Book of Luke.

A flute prelude, played by Sara Wright and Katherine McClure will precede the candlelight processional.

Mrs. Lawrence Benson is pageant chairman, assisted by Miss Louise Goss. Mrs. Fred Sheldon is director and Tristam Johnson is in charge of lighting. Behind the scenes, Barbara McConnell is production manager for the second year, assisted by Jane Vial and Bruce Wells.

CAROL SERVICES SET

At Trinity Church. Four services featuring the traditional carols of many nations will be held at Trinity Episcopal Church to celebrate the Feast of Christmas.

On Christmas Eve, the adult and girls' choirs will be heard at the 8 p.m. Eucharist. At the traditional 11 p.m. Eucharist, the choir of men and boys will sing. The music will include carols, a motet, "O Magnum Mysterium" by Victoria and several 12th Century carols.

On Christmas Day the men's choir will sing medieval carols and Kentucky folk carols during the Eucharist service at 9:30 a.m.

This Sunday, at 11 a.m., the Festival Service of Lessons and Carols, made popular by the choir of Kings' College, Cambridge, will be sung by Trinity's choir of men and boys. Beginning with a single boy singing "Once In Royal David's City," and ending with the entire choir and congregation singing "O Come All Ye Faithful," the Christmas story is presented by members of the congregation and clergy reading lessons, each lesson followed by an appropriate carol.

TWO SERVICES PLANNED

By Prince of Peace Church. The Rev. John C. Pfisterer has announced two festival worship services for the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, Princetnn Junction.

On Christmas Eve, a family candlelight service will begin at 6 p.m. Designed for the whole family, the service will include lessons and carols and a procession to the manger where Christmas offerings and gifts for a local needy family will be placed. The adult choir will sing.

On Christmas Day, at 10 a.m., a new service, entitled "Celebrate," will be held. Included are contemporary translations of the major texts of the liturgy including the creed and the Lord's Prayer. Holy Communion will be celebrated.

Princeton of Peace Lutheran Church, affiliated with the Lutheran Church in America, meets in the Maurice Hawk School, Clarksville Road.

BULLETIN NOTES

Rev. Claude Row, associate director of the Presbyterian Homes of New Jersey, will be the visiting minister at the 11:30 a.m. service this Sunday in Rosedale Chapel, Carter Road.

Princeton Methodist Church has instituted a "Pen Pal" program between the entire church school and 60 American Indian children ages 6 to 18 in an effort to promote understanding and personal involvement. The Rev. Thomas Roughface of the denomination's Oklahoma Conference has supplied the names.

Rev. Andrew J. MacTaggart Jr., assistant minister of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church, will conduct the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services on Sunday. His sermon title is "Hope For the 70's — To Put Old Wine Into a Better Bag."

Trinity Church, Rocky Hill, will hold a Christmas service and Santa Claus party for church school children and their parents at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday. There will be no church school classes Sunday.

"Christian Science" is the title of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all churches of the denomination this Sunday. Services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 16 Bayard Lane are at 11 a.m. and 8:15 p.m.

Unitarian Church of Princeton will hold a single worship service, at 11 a.m., this Sunday. Folk guitarist Ronald Roslow will lead the service, "The Sixties Gave Us 'Now'."

To give our employees who have worked so faithfully during the holiday season an added rest, we will be closed Thursday and Friday, December 25th and 26th
